Logan O. Swope went on the witness stand and calmity gave a synopsis of the Swope tragedies. Her testimony closed the state's case. Only once did Mrs. Swope appear to be affected. This was when she was telling how Dr. Hyde informed her shortly after James Moss Hunton's death, that Col. Swope could not live. Mrs. Swope did not attack Dr. Hyde or his wife, They sat directly in front of her and she looked them both in the eyes several times. They stared at her in return.

The whole situation between the two

The whole situation between the two families was summed up during Mrs. Swope's cross-examination:

"You told Mrs. Hyde when she left your house on Dec. IS last, you hoped she would come back, and she said she would return only when you invited her husband. I believe?" asked Mr. Walsh.

"That is exactly what happened, answered Mrs. Swope.

The defense attempted to show Mrs. Swope's antipathy toward Dr. Hyde had its beginning last fall over a financial matter.

"When Mrs. Hyde refused to give her portion of the Hunton estate over to Mrs. Liddie Moore, a sister of Mr. Hunton, you told her Clark Hyde had advised her to refuse; that he did not love her and only wanted her money, did you not?" asked Mr. Walsh.

"I most certainly did not," said Mrs. Swope, warmly.

The contention of the defense that Dr. and Mrs. Hyde did not know whether they were remembered in Col. Swope's will was denied by Mrs. Swope.

CARNEGIE SAYS FEW WORDS ABOUT TARIFF

New York, May 4.—Refore sailing today for his summer home in Scotland. Andrew Carnegle had a few words to say about the tariff.

"In my opinion greater progress has been made by the latest tariff revision towards the perfect tariff than ever before." he observed. "Of course it is hard to please everybody and I can only express my opinion by quoting something I read on a postal card lately: "Let the scrowlers scowl, let the howlers have and the politicians go it. The country is all right and I know it."

Mr. Carnegie highly complimented President Taft, saying that he was a model wresident, but that he worked too hard. Mr. Carnegie said:
"He wants to please everybody and in that lies his greatest fault. There is no comparison with the work of the previous administration. One did the spade work and the present administration is sowing the seeds. As to Mr. Roosevell's plans, I do not know what he wants, but he has a way of getting anything he does want and I presume when he returns he will obtain whatever he is looking for" Lying just beneath the outer covering or tissue-skin, is a sensitive membranous fiesh in which are imbedded thousands of small blood vessels. It is through these tiny veins and arteries that nutriment is supplied from the blood to the different pores, glands and lymphatics. Thus the skin is kept healthy, and free from all eruption or disease, by pure blood. But when impurities and humors infect the circulation its nourishing properties are diminished and interest of supplying the skin with healthful properties are diminished and interest of supplying the skin with healthful properties it constantly irritates and diseases the delicate fibres, pores and glands with sharp uratic matter. Then the skin tissues inflame, swell and ulcerate and some form of skin disease appears on the surface. Applying soothing lotions, salves, etc., to the outer eruptions does not purify the blood and therefore the skin trouble can not be cured in this manner. S. S. S. cures all skin diseases by neutralizing the acids and removing the humors from the blood. It cools the acid-heated circulation, builds it up to its normal strength and thickness, multiplies its rich, nutritious corpuscles, and adds to its purity in every way. Then the skin, instead of being irritated and inflamed by sour impurities is nourished, soothed and softened by this cooling, healthy stream of blood. S. S. S. ### SUGAR INVESTIGATION.

Owing to Witness' Illness Hearing May be Postponed.

May be Postponed.

New York, May 4.—The illness of one of its chief witnesses may further hamper the government in its prosecution of Charles Heike, secretary of the American Sugar Refining company, whose trial on sugar underweighing conspiracy charges is set for May 10. The supreme court in Washington on Monday threw out Heike's immunity plea, and the long-delayed trial was to be begun next week.

Richard Parr, the customs official who discovered the fraudulent device by which the government was deprived of duties on sugar imports, and whose testimony was expected to play an important part in the trial of Heike and other men indicted with him in this connection, is threatened with appendicities and an operation may be necessary.

The prosecution will be greatly ham.

The prosecution will be greatly hampered if Parr is unable to appear, although it is said new evidence of an important nature has been discovered.

San Francisco, May 5.—Special Prosecutor James R. Knapp, who assisted in the local investigation of the sugar companies, yesterday completed his work of compiling evidence taken during the inquiry just closed and will leave for New York today. From New York he will transmit to Atty-Gen, Wickersham a report of the results of the investigation. Knapp intimated in an interview that the Pacific coast inquiry has not yet been completed.
